CAMPER RECOGNITION

CHARACTER BEADS

Throughout the week our staff will keep a record of our campers' behaviors that demonstrate the YMCA's four core values:

Caring Honesty Respect Responsibility

Each camper can earn one bead for each value. When all four core values beads are earned, campers are able to trade them in for a rainbow bead. Character beads will be given to campers during the White Feather ceremony with their village.

WHITE FEATHER

White Feather is awarded weekly to a camper in each village who demonstrated our four core values. White Feather is special because it is awarded to campers by campers. Each camper in the village casts a vote for another camper who they think has exemplified the values and has worked to build positive relationships with all the campers and staff. This ceremony is conducted each Thursday afternoon with each individual village.

RED FEATHER

Red Feather is the highest honor in camp and is awarded to one camper in each village, each week. Again, this camper demonstrates the four core values and encourages other to do the same. Other Red Feather qualities include, but are not limited to, using manners, following directions, setting a positive example for others, participating fully in activities, random acts of kindness, etc.

The Red Feather is awarded during our Friday ceremonies where each of our Village Chiefs (group leaders) dresses as Native Americans, in honor of our Camp's heritage. So you can plan accordingly and come to the ceremony, our Village Chiefs will inform you ahead of time if your camper(s) will earn this award.

We strongly encourage you to come to our ceremony and take as many pictures as you'd like! Please arrive at the Ockanickon Ding Hall at approximately 2:30 pm. We will begin the ceremonies with skits at the dining hall amphitheater followed by the Red Feather ceremony held at our ceremony grounds.

STOCKWELL CAMP SONG

Here we are Lake Stockwell Day Camp
Spirit! Body! Mind!
Whether staff or whether camper, happiness you'll find
You'll find!
With each day comes new adventures
Fun for you and me
And me!
Stockwell Day Camp is the only place I want to be
To be!
