

Alumni Weekend at Camp Ockanickon

During the recent Alumni Weekend at YMCA Camp Ockanickon in Medford, camp officials honored Rick Hiles, the camp's longtime property manager. For more than three decades, Hiles refurbished cabins, dredged lakes, cleared trails, built bridges and constructed a night sky observatory.

Hiles, a Medford resident, retired in 1997, but his impact on the 800-acre camp is still evident today.

The weekend also included a host of camp-type activities, including hayrides, hikes, boating, swimming, shelter-building, archery and challenge course activities.

There was a social for the over-21 crowd and a formal banquet dinner, which led into a night of special events, including a traditional campfire ceremony.
